

2010 SPC PHOTO CONTEST

CATEGORIES & DESCRIPTIONS

Although you are permitted to photograph a subject of your choosing, remember that this is a family oriented club. Nudity, implied nudity and images of adult nature are not permitted.

1. Blur

This category is about the creative use of blur.
The blur can be created in camera or in post processing.
The subject can be anything of your choosing.

2. Red

In this category we want you to tell the story of the colour red with the image. The subject can be anything of your choosing.

3. Macro

All close-up to extreme close-up photos of small subjects.
Usually a 1:1 ratio between the size of the subject and the size of the capture.
Sometimes only 1:2 ratio.

4. Motion

This category is about the capturing motion. It does not necessarily need to be human motion. It can be the capture of any motion, but make the image about the motion. ie: Waterfall is motion...make the image about the movement of the water, not the whole scene.

5. Night Photography

This category is about the capture of images after dark.
The subject can be anything of your choosing.

6. Photo Journalism

In this category your image will be the capture of a person/event to tell a story. Your image should be similar to what you would find in a newspaper. Only Post -Processing allowed is adjustment of levels or curves, saturation, some sharpening, and crop. The image must be true to the scene.

7. Black & White

Any image that you wish to create in black & white.
No Sepia or Duotones

8. Pictorial (Open Category)

This is an open category designed to fit the images that do not have a specific category of their own. (Landscapes, Nature, Still Life, Architectural, Reflections, etc.)

9. Digital Entry

This category is open to all manipulation. You are able to montage; add text, etc, but no signatures.

This is a story telling category where the contestant uses three photos to tell his/her story. Each of the images can also be a collection of other images. Photos entered in other categories may be used again here. This category is not part of the best of show competition. We will only be awarding first place for this category.
